OF MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE
AT MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, WILLIAM G. ALLEN BUSINESS MANAGER, JOHN G. BARMBY

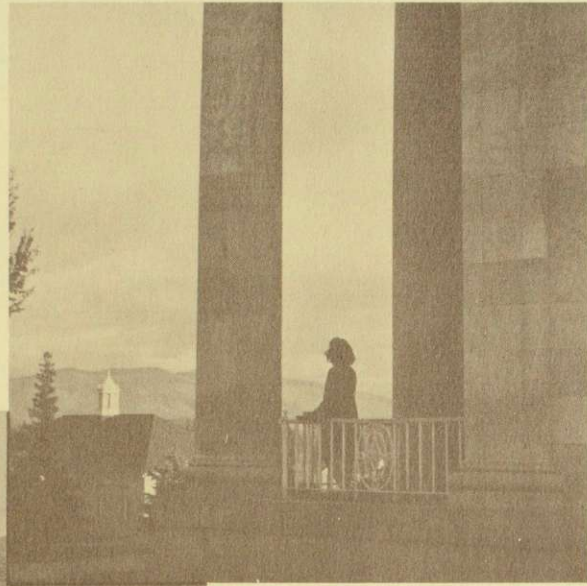

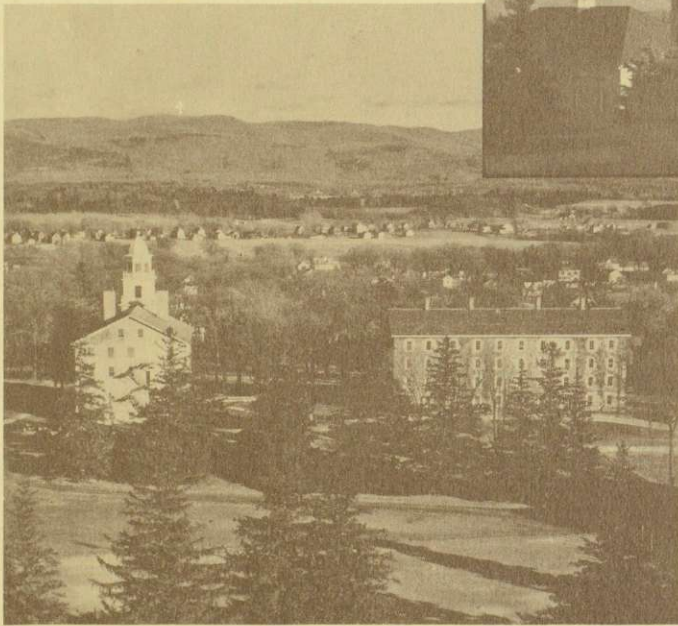

In the Year 1941-42...

. . . WE AS A COLLEGE AND AS INDIVIDUALS HAVE SOUGHT TO CAPTURE AND SAVE IN MEMORY THE LIFE OF A COLLEGE YEAR. UNPRECEDENTED CHANGES, UNCERTAIN FUTURES, HAVE MADE MORE PRECIOUS THE IDEALS WE HOLD AS COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN, THE FRIENDSHIPS AMONG CLASSMATES AND FACULTY, THE FAMILIAR SCENES ON OUR CAMPUS. IF WITHIN THESE PAGES WE HAVE PRESERVED SOMETHING OF THE THINGS THAT WILL ALWAYS BE THE MIDDLEBURY OF THIS YEAR, THIS ISSUE OF OUR YEARBOOK HAS ACHIEVED ITS GOAL.

These Are New

COMPLETING THE QUADRANGLE OF THE MEN'S CAMPUS WE HAVE SEEN RISE THE JAMES M. GIFFORD MEMORIAL HALL FOR BOYS. NATIVE NEW ENGLAND SIMPLICITY, CHARACTERISTIC MIDDLEBURY ARCHITECTURE SYMBOLIZE IT. IT IS A MEMORIAL TO A LOYAL ALUMNUS, THE REALIZATION OF A DESIRE TO CONTRIBUTE MATERIALLY TO THE PROGRESS OF THE COLLEGE.

Rooms

EVEN MORE RECENT HAS BEEN THE EXPANSION OF THE COLLEGE INTO MUNROE RECITATION HALL, PLACED ALONG THE MEN'S CAMPUS QUADRANGLE. MODERN CLASSROOMS WITHIN THIS BUILDING FORM THE BACKGROUND FOR THE CORE OF COLLEGE AT MIDDLEBURY—ITS DAILY INTELLECTUAL LIFE.

OLD CHAPEL AND ITS TOWER OUTLINED AGAINST A SUMMER SKY SYMBOLIZE FOR ALL WHO KNOW IT THE DIRECTION AND PURPOSE OF MIDDLEBURY DURING A NEAR CENTURY AND A HALF. NOW SOLELY THE ADMINISTRATION CENTER OF THE COLLEGE,
IT STANDS TO CONTINUE ACROSS THE YEARS
ITS LEADERSHIP.

The President's Message

SOME THINGS, LIKE WINE, IMPROVE WITH AGE. THAT IS TRUE OF THIS BOOK. HOWEVER INTERESTING IT MAY SEEM NOW, THE DAYS WILL COME WHEN THE DIVIDENDS ON THE INVESTMENT WILL CONSTANTLY INCREASE IN VALUE. THERE ARE MANY ALUMNI AND ALUMNAE WHO, WHEN THEY READ OF SOME FRIEND OR CLASSMATE, TURN BACK TO THE PAGES OF AN OLD KALEIDOSCOPE TO RENEW IMPRESSIONS OF TREASURED MEMORIES. THEY MAY TAKE IT FROM THE SHELF TO LOOK UP ONE THING. THEY WILL PROBABLY PUT IT BACK ONLY AFTER THEY HAVE TURNED MANY PAGES AND LOOKED INTO THE FACES OF OLD FRIENDS THEY HAVE NOT SEEN AGAIN. IF ONLY KALEIDOSCOPES HAD BEEN KEPT FROM THE EARLIEST CLASS, WHAT A TREASURE THEY WOULD HAVE PROVED, AND HOW INTERESTING IT WOULD BE TO SEE WHAT SOME MEN AND WOMEN NOW COME TO DISTINCTION LOOKED LIKE WHEN THEY WERE YOUNG. A LONG LINE OF KALEIDOSCOPES OCCUPIES AN HONORED AND OFT SOUGHT SHELF AMONG OUR BOOKS. WE WILL TREASURE THESE INCREASINGLY IN YEARS TO COME.

PAUL D. MOODY

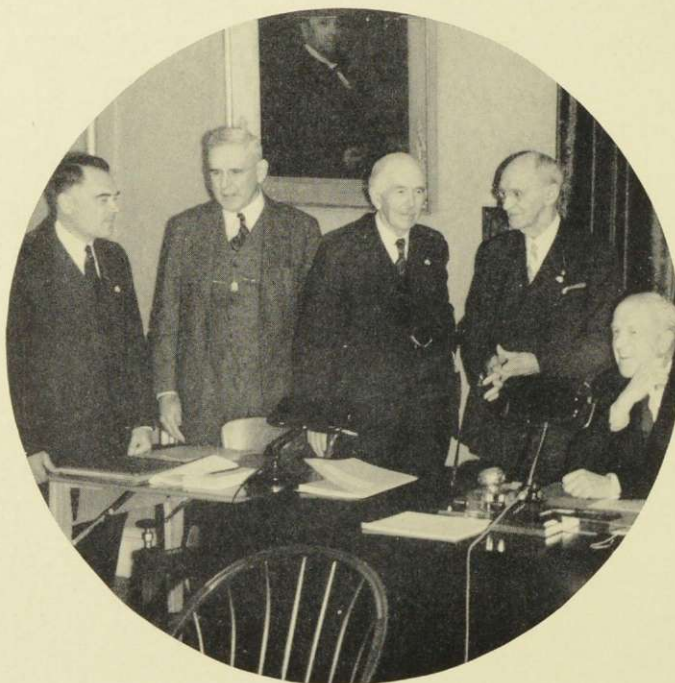

President Paul D. Moody

Since 1921 Middlebury College has been under the direction of President Paul D. Moody. President Moody is a graduate of Yale and has studied in England and Scotland. Last year he served as a Chief Liaison Officer of the Army, but has returned to resume his duties at Middlebury during this year.

Dean of Women

Eleanor S. Ross has been Dean of the Women's College of Middlebury since 1915. She herself was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the college. In addition to her present position here she held that of Assistant Professor of English in 1915-16. As well as carrying on her routine work, she serves as adviser to the undergraduates of the women's college.

ELEANOR S. ROSS

JOHN H. PATTERSON

Acting Dean of Men

Due to the vacancy created by the absence of Doctor Patterson, the position known as Acting Dean has been held by Dr. Ennis B. Womack. He was also Assistant Professor of Chemistry from 1930 to 1937 and since that period has been Associate Professor in the same department.

ENNIS B. WOMACK

Dean of Men

Although he has been on leave from the beginning of the year 1941-42, for government service, Dr. John H. Patterson is well known for his services as Dean of Men since he first filled the position in 1938. Besides this original capacity, he has served as an Associate Professor of Economics until leaving for Washington.

In Memoriam

Clement P. Willits

In memory of Clement P. Willits whose sudden passing in October has left a space at Middlebury not easily filled. A thinker, a student, and most of all a friend whom we shall remember always. In spirit, Clem is still with us.

When the Greeks Are Rushing

Every year after rushing is over, there are complaints about the Interfraternity Council and agitation for reorganization, but it soon dies down and the Council carries on.

Composed of sixteen men, a junior and senior representative from each of the eight fraternities on campus, the Council is the organization which settles all difficulties, both large and small, between fraternities. Under President A. Wilson Wood, the Interfraternity Council establishes harmony and good feeling on the men's campus by arbitrary means.

The Council's main function is to control rushing. It draws up the rules to be followed by all fraternities to make rushing as fair as possible. In addition the Council has the authority to enforce the rules laid down by it.

Pres. Barry and Sec.-Treas. D. J. Watson

Organized in 1932, the Pan-Hellenic Council aims to promote greater co-operation between sororities, to raise the scholarship, and to regulate the rushing rules.

First, through its efforts, all strife between sororities has been eliminated, and a spirit of friendliness prevails. Second, raising the scholarship has been accomplished by awarding a cup each semester to the sorority having the highest average, and by giving a scholarship to a sophomore woman, on the basis of need, outside activities and scholarship. Last, rushing is opened by giving a supper to which all freshmen and transfers are invited.

The Council is composed of two representatives from each sorority, with the presidency rotating yearly, and held by each chapter in the order of its establishment at Middlebury.

House of Representatives

Organized in the spring of 1939, the Men's Student Government finishes this May its third year as a successful experiment in student self-government. Controlling almost every phase of student activity, the Assembly has spent the larger part of this year looking into plans for forming a Judicial Council which will take control of student activities and especially discipline even more out of the hands of the Dean.

Established on an elective basis, its members are chosen from "living centers" about the campus by the students, on a ratio of one representative to ten men. In the first meeting of the year, early in October, these men elect from their body a Speaker, Secretary and Sergeant-at-Arms. These offices are held by Philip W. Rifenberg '42, S. Peter Nikitas '43 and Harold H. Hollister '44.

Connected with the Assembly is an executive body, the President's Council, headed by Undergraduate President Stan-

Student Union call masses women in Mead Chapel

. . . and Women in Congress

Student Government at Middlebury is an important organization on the women's campus. It is the only governing power in the women's college and as such, passes its own laws and supervises their administration.

This year under the leadership of Alice Taylor, president, changes are under way which will make Student Union an even more efficient and more unified organization than it now is. These changes are directed towards the development of representative government, under which new system, there would be no more of the present "mass meetings" of the women's campus. Instead there would be briefer and more effective meetings of representatives elected from each of the four classes.

Miss Taylor is being helped in her efforts to bring about the formation of this new student government system by other officers: Vice-president, Virginia I. Wynn; secretary, Elizabeth von Thurn; treasurer, Elinor L. Dickie; chief justice, Patricia L. Kane; and assistant treasurer, Charlotte H. Johnson.

Committee on Manners and Morals

Middlebury College is really like a complicated piece of clockwork whose innermost turnings are often ignored. All the committees, clubs, and organizations act as wheels and cogs that help the mechanism run smoothly. But the main-spring is the Student Life Committee, whose purpose is to bring together both student and faculty representatives, so that the problems of all sides of the campus may be discussed and a better understanding reached between the students and administration.

This year the committee is composed of four members, with Professor Womack of the Chemistry Department as chairman, filling the position usually held by Doctor Patterson, Dean of Men. Miss Ross, the Dean of Women, and Alice Taylor, the president of Student Union, represent the women's college, while Stanwood F. Johnson, the president of the Undergraduate Association, completes the group in adding his word for the men's side of the campus.

The committee meets at such times as it finds necessary. Among its most essential duties are those of planning and limiting the social activities of the college, such as dances, entertainments and recreational functions of all kinds. In short, it struggles with the social calendar, and accounts for practically all events—except the snowfall for Winter Carnival. Thus, while the committee is small, it is important, and accomplishes much.

It is a satisfaction to the student body as a whole to know that, through the representatives that they have chosen, they are having a hand in the running of the college, especially in the planning of those events that play such a large part in helping them to enjoy a good education. Student Life adds more than any other organization toward keeping Middlebury ticking.

Supervising Middlebury Athletics

The Athletic Council is the power immediately behind all aspects of men's athletics at Middlebury. Its functions include all matters pertaining to sports except the budget, which is under the supervision of the Director of Athletics, Coach Arthur M. Brown.

Membership includes the Athletic Director, five faculty members appointed annually, one alumnus, the president of the Undergraduate Association, and the captains of all major and minor sports. Thus the Athletic Council is also the connecting link between the student body and the faculty in the matter of all college athletics.

The Council makes all regulations concerning athletics at Middlebury. It decides upon the number of contests in which each team may engage, and how many of them must be at home. It handles the relations with other colleges and arranges the schedules of the various competing athletic teams.

It is also within the power of the Athletic Council to sanction any new sports and to raise any sport from a minor rating to that of a major sport. Thus, in response to student petitions a few months ago, such action was taken in regard to skiing.

The elections of all captains must meet the approval of the Athletic Council, particularly in the event of ties, and it must approve the letter awards. In the same category, it is also the business of the Council to approve the appointments of managers and to establish a system, whereby new managers will be coming up each year to replace those who have either graduated or moved to a higher position. Providing managers this year has been a greater problem than before.

Waubanakee Honors a Favored Few

Officers Cosgrove and A. W. Wood

A Middlebury man elected to Waubanakee in his junior year has achieved the highest honor awarded to an undergraduate. As long as there is a junior who in the eyes of the senior members has fulfilled the requirements during his three previous years for admission, the society is self-perpetuating. These requirements are based upon scholarship, character, personality, and participation in extra-curricular activity.

The tomahawk, which is the insignia of Waubanakee, is the symbol of progress. Members of the society, then, have shown progress not only in what they have received from Middlebury, but in what they have contributed to its advancement.

Membership is limited to nine men, but not since 1918 has the full quota been eligible. This year four men received this honor. They are: A. Wilson Wood, president; Edward H. Yeomans, Stanwood F. Johnson, and Kenneth E. Cosgrove.

Mortar Board Caps College Career

Middlebury's honorary society for women was originally a local one—Ban-shee; now included in the nation-wide collegiate organization, Mortar Board.

A pin in the shape of the traditional mortar board has come to signify a girl who is the personification of scholarship, leadership, and service. The privilege of wearing such pins on Midd's campus belongs to Eleanor L. Dickie, president; Alice J. Austin, vice-president; Adelaide E. Barrett, treasurer; Hope Barton, secretary; Mary E. Clough, chairman of the Point System; Patricia L. Kane, Quarterly editor; and Alice Taylor, president of Student Union.

The significance of being a member of Mortar Board goes further than the prestige gained by being tapped in chapel in spring. Besides working on their annual project, these girls promote Mountain Day for freshman girls, Senior Picnic, and the May Day breakfast.

The Keys of the Campus

Sec.-Treas. Eakeley and Pres. R. C. Davis

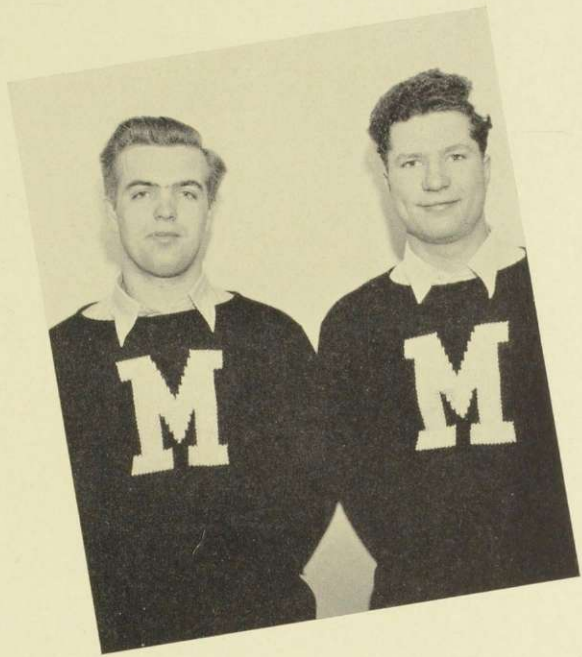

Formed in 1930 by a merger of the Delta Taus and the Sages, sophomore and junior societies respectively, the Blue Key has gradually developed from a purely honorary society to one of prominence and varied responsibility. Under its jurisdiction falls the sale of freshman rules and caps, the purchase of awards for championship teams, the conduct of athletic rallies, and most important of all, the duty of taking the frosh in hand and teaching them the code of proper Middlebury conduct.

Each spring the membership is increased by the tapping of five seniors, fifteen juniors, and five sophomores during one of the daily chapel exercises. A blue metal key is the symbol of this organization and its members are entitled by Middlebury tradition to wear crew caps with a blue key insignia upon them.

"M" Club Letters Its Members

Undergraduates and alumni who have earned a letter in a major sport at Middlebury are eligible for membership in the "M" Club. These sports are football, basketball, hockey, track, baseball, and skiing, which was added in 1939 by action of the Athletic Council. Beside those who have earned a letter in one of these sports, managers of varsity teams, the freshman football manager, and the intramural manager are also eligible as members of this club.

At its organization in 1926, the purpose of the "M" Club was defined as "to foster athletics at Middlebury" and it has taken on several responsibilities during its existence. At one time, the Club financed the purchase of their sweaters by conducting the college gymnasium dances.

All the News that Fits

Meeting composing deadlines

The Middlebury Campus, established in 1913, is the undergraduate weekly publication of the college. The fundamental purpose is to provide an opportunity to practice newspaper work and to bring to the student body stories of real news value.

Training of the editorial staff in newspaper work has been conducted this year on the usual tryout basis. Business staff members have been trained likewise, the positions of Business Manager and Advertising Manager offering the final election goals.

The Senior Board has five salaried positions, which, with the exception of Sports Editor, are open to both women and men. This year the staff consists of: Editor-in-chief, Dwight F. Smith; Managing Editor, Mary E. Clough; Associate Editor, William L. Hennefrund; Sports Editor, Robert W. Halligan; Business Manager, Marvin E. Holdredge; and Advertising Manager, Jane F. Giblin.

Deep in a KALEID for you

The KALEIDOSCOPE, the junior year book and a Middlebury College tradition, has been edited this year by a staff headed by William G. Allen, Editor-in-chief, John G. Barmby, Business Manager; Elisabeth von Thurn, Associate Editor; Lenore E. Wolff, Assistant Editor; and Stephen G. Wilson, Managing Editor.

The only recent change in the direction of the KALEIDOSCOPE has been the addition of the office of Associate Editor, made to allow one person complete charge of the photography of the year book, rather than having this responsibility placed with the staff as a whole.

Tryouts are trained all through their sophomore year and elections are held at the end of the year by the outgoing board. Each member of the KALEIDOSCOPE staff is paid a fixed salary, and any profits from a current year's budget go into a sinking fund to be used in case of an emergency and only with the permission of the student government.

Handy Reference

With larger pictures and an easier identification system, Editor Robert B. Rivel's 1941-42 issue of the Middlebury Handbook has filled an important place in campus life.

Originally intended as an introductory guide for freshmen, in its four years' existence, the book has seen both an increase in popularity and several important changes in format. The first Handbook was composed of freshman pictures and a digest of college regulations and activities, being published in a single volume which appeared early in the first semester.

The second Handbook, however, was divided into two parts. The first part, which was prepared in the summer, contained information primarily of interest to freshmen. The second section consisted of freshman pictures and was published after college opened.

Under present plans, the now-revised first section will remain standard.

Mad About Music

For some time past there has been a need for an organization which would satisfy the musical interests of the students on both campuses. With this need in mind Tone was created.

Already this club promises to take active part in college activities. It has forty-five active members who meet every two weeks at the Music Studio for programs consisting of lectures and recitals by club members and guest artists. These are planned mainly to promote interest in the rather neglected fields of music. It is hoped that there will also be some musical composition on the part of the members.

In tune with the times

Warren J. Hassmer, who played a major part in organizing Tone, was chosen to be its first president. The program director is Henry L. Cady and Barbara A. Counsell is secretary and treasurer of Middlebury's newest club.

Local Talent

More vital, perhaps, to Middlebury's social life than any other single student organization, the Black Panthers have once again proved themselves to be a thoroughly capable dance orchestra.

But the biggest reason for their success is not the fact that they are eleven potential soloists. They are more than that. They are a unit, first interested in working together to produce more than names—to produce music.

We could call the roll: Roberts, Harris, Holliday, Mathews, Izant, Wilcox, Nims, Kissick, Vinall, Youngs and Quirk. But it is not Roberts' trumpet nor Harris' sax, it is not these single elements which give this orchestra its popularity. It's the organization itself, the willingness of its members to work together with the aim of making good music, which has made the Black Panthers the fine group they are this year.

Women and the World

The purpose of the Women's Forum, headed by Leonore W. Pockman, is to further interest in current economic, political and social questions. Talks by faculty members and student panel discussions are features of the twice-monthly meetings. The Forum is also affiliated with the Carnegie Endowment of International Peace and, this year, for the first time, sent four delegates to the Regional Conference of International Relations Club at Smith College.

Another phase of Forum activities is the work of the Social Service Committee. This group conducts classes in cooking and sewing for underprivileged children and gives them several parties during the year. A special feature is the Christmas party for the Ripton children. All this work is furthered by profits from the Thrift Shop, which sells donated clothing at low prices to needy townspeople. This project is led by Barbara B. Higham.

Literature Lives

Two years ago some students became interested in forming an active organization for the critical discussion of literature, and thus the Literary Club came into being. Since that time it has become one of the most active organizations on campus.

In accordance with its purpose, the Club offers an opportunity to exchange views on literature and further its appreciation. Programs usually consist of open discussions of literary works previously selected by the members. Occasionally, meetings are given over to the reading of dramatic dialogues or original poetry by talented members, or to visiting lecturers.

In regard to the structure of the Club, members are chosen on a selective basis, with active participation at the twice-monthly meetings being a requisite. Peter J. Stanlis is the president, George W. Sullivan the Program Chairman, and Jean E. Jordan, secretary-treasurer.

Vive La France

Le Cercle Français was founded to create an interest in France and in things French. The complete cooperation and exceptional standards of the French faculty have given it a definite place in the outside curricula.

Membership is composed of students from the three upper classes, selected for their interest in the French language and French culture. At the monthly meetings, interesting programs are presented, including French plays and monologues produced by club members and faculty, and French movies. For two years the club has sent money that under normal conditions would be used for refreshments to children in occupied France.

Leaders for Le Cercle Français this year are: Marion E. Anderson, president; Denise B. Aubuchon, vice-president; and June M. Archibald, secretary-treasurer.

Stille Nacht

The program which the German Club presents each year offers an opportunity to appreciate German language and culture beyond classroom studies.

This year the Club has been composed primarily of advanced students and membership has been limited to a smaller group in an effort to make the organization more mutually beneficial. The Club meets each month at the home of a member of the German faculty to sing songs, dance the traditional folk-dances and gain fluency in the German tongue. The meetings have been very informal, thus making the Club of social as well as cultural value.

Among its activities is the singing of Christmas carols on the Sunday morning before Christmas vacation. The officers are: Lewis E. Haines, president; Robert S. Bristol, secretary; and Frances Majoros, treasurer.

The Rice of Spain

The Spanish Club of Middlebury, under the leadership of Elizabeth B. Hamann, president, and John Kalajian as secretary-treasurer, offers Spanish students further opportunities for becoming better acquainted with the spoken language. In its meetings, once a month, they also gain a more thorough knowledge of Spanish customs.

At its annual bridge party, hearts become corazones, diamonds are diamantes, spades are espades, clubs are bastos, and six-no-trump becomes seis sin triunfo.

Well known to many is the Spanish Club supper held each fall, while at the meetings during the year informal talks are often presented by the various Spanish faculty members.

Because of increased membership, a plan is under consideration for the organization of a club for beginners in Spanish. Another new project is the essay contest to be held this year.

Gold Cane pillars

Gold Cane, founded in 1940 to represent non-sorority women of Middlebury and meet some of their social and scholastic needs, has had a full program this year. Following the example of its first year, when Gold-Caners had their own snow sculpturing, step-singing, spring picnic, and parties, the organization held social meetings throughout this year, beginning with a large welcome party for freshman neutral women. It also took up philanthropic projects to aid town societies.

To help meet scholastic needs of members, Gold Cane selects a scholastic chairman who brings together underclassmen wishing help and upperclassmen able to give it. Sole requisites for membership in this organization for neutral women is ten cents a semester, and a desire to belong.

Adelaide Barrett served the group as president first semester, and Virginia Clemens during the second semester.

In the Cold Light of Reason

Debating, always an important activity in a liberal arts college, has become even more important to Middlebury College and more pertinent to current events this year than ever before.

There has been a change of topics from questions of national importance to the international, with particular emphasis on world conditions after the war. A continued effort on the part of the debaters to read, think and discuss makes this activity even so vital to war effort that it may well be true that it should be among the last of the extra-curricular activities to be curtailed.

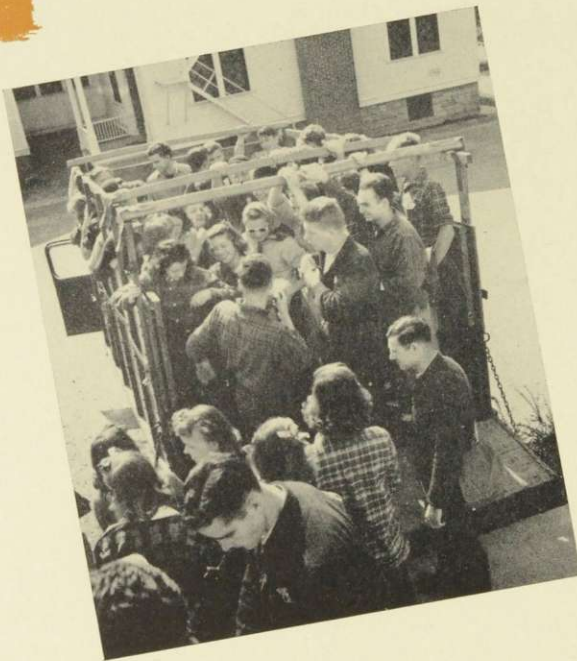

Very ably coached by Professor Perley C. Perkins, both the men's and women's teams have continued to maintain an approximate average of two-thirds victories against their opponents. Several of the Middlebury debates have been broadcast; in these the men's team took part in four, while the women's team has broadcast but one of their contests.

Sunday morning at Battell

Founded in 1931, the Mountain Club is one of the largest and most popular of the extra-curricular organizations of the College.

During the fall months the Mountain Club sponsors the ever-popular hikes to the surrounding peaks of the Green Mountains. On any fair Sunday morning during the fall the two Mountain Club trucks will be lined up behind Battell Cottage, ready to take a load of eager hikers off to some base camp from which they can start climbing or hiking. In the course of the season the hikers cover much territory and usually Mt. Mansfield and Mt. Killington, the two highest peaks in the State of Vermont, are included in the schedule. As soon as snow conditions permit, the Club runs weekly ski hikes to Breadloaf Mountain, where there is a ski tow and a cabin.

The government of the Mountain Club consists of a Skyline body and a Governing Board. In their freshman year would-be Skyliners attend hikes and tryout meetings, where they learn all the details and rules of woodcraft and camping in the open. This training is followed by a standard First-Aid course. In the spring, ten men and ten women from the tryouts are elected to temporary Skyline. In December of the next year elections are again held and six men and six women are elected from this temporary body to permanent Skyline. Above this, is the Governing Board composed of the Club officers and headed by David K. Smith, this year's president of the Mountain Club.

Winter Carnival, the outstanding social event of the college year, is sponsored by the Mountain Club and comes late in February when skiing conditions are usually at their best. Headed by Co-chairmen Elliot A. Baines '43 and Betty Young '43, it starts off with the coronation of a Carnival King and Queen. This is followed by open-house fraternity dances which take the place of the usual Carnival Ball, called off this year to minimize Carnival expenditures during a war-time emergency. The next evening the Carnival play, "Calling All Queens," is presented at the High School gymnasium. Then on Saturday night, Carnival winds up with the informal Klondike Rush.

The 1942 Winter Carnival plays host to the Intercollegiate Ski Association and on Friday a crowd turns up at Breadloaf to watch the downhill and slalom races. On Saturday afternoon the whole college, plus the town of Middlebury is up on Chipman Hill watching the ski-jumping contests. On Sunday a ski hike is run to Breadloaf open slopes for those ski enthusiasts who still have some energy left.

Spring brings the annual Sugarin' Off Party, which is held as soon as the maple sap begins to run. This is a very popular hike and many students will be ready with their tin cups to make the trip to some nearby sugar grove. Here city-bred students learn how maple sugar is made and at the same time get enough sugar and snow to eat to last them until the next spring.

Sheridan rides again

Middlebury College has long been proud of its Drama Department, and justly so. It seems as though the plays produced are better each year, and that the student body's interest in dramatics is correspondingly greater.

During the 1940 and 1941 season the college Playhouse was under the direction of Professor V. Spencer Goodreds. One of the outstanding successes of the year was "Gold in the Hills," a melodrama in approved Gay Nineties style, complete with entr' acts. The students enjoyed cheering the hero and hissing the villain so much that the play was put on twice. Parents and alumni enjoyed the second performance presented at Commencement time.

This year Professor Henning Nelms has taken over the Drama Department during Professor Goodreds' absence. His assistant at the Playhouse is Mr. Erie T. Volkert. Professor Nelms during this year has not confined himself to merely the directing of the activities of the Drama Department. Rather, he hammers on "flats," mixes paint and does a multitude of other things with an enthusiasm that affects all who come to the Playhouse.

Oh, Mummy—(who also came to dinner)

The first production presented during this school year and under the direction of Professor Nelms was the Kaufman and Hart comedy, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." This play, which was presented on November 17 and 18, was exceptionally well received.

"Only An Orphan Girl," the second production of the season, and very aptly described as a "rural romance" was held on the four nights of December 9, 10, 11 and 12. For this four-night run it played to an enthusiastic audience which, seated at tables, drank cider and pelted the villain with peanuts.

The Drama Department is always popular. The variety of the plays that are produced gives to many individuals the opportunities to display their special talents in acting, stagecraft and other fields. Best of all, everyone who is interested is welcome at the Playhouse, whether as star actor or ticket seller, as stage manager or scene shifter. There are parts for all who feel the play's the thing.

Caught in the act

Midd's Mentors

Mr. John J. "Red" Kelly is head coach of the Middlebury baseball team as well as being an instructor in physical education. The latter position has recently assumed increasing importance because of the war and the physical requirements for military service.

Besides being head coach of the hockey team, Mr. George Akerstrom is assistant coach of football and an instructor of physical education.

Mr. Samuel Guarnaccia, a former Middlebury athlete, returned in 1940 to assume the duties of freshman football coach and language instructor.

Panther Spirit

Adding one victory to last year's record, the Middlebury football team showed more drive and spirit than has been seen on campus since the days of the undefeated 1936 team. Winning only one game this year, the games were actually much closer than the scores would tend to indicate. Every game showed promise of being a win, until the second half, when lack of substitutes to fill the places of the weary and injured began to have its effect.

The first game of the year, against Williams, got off to a bad start when the Ephmen scored in the first few minutes of play. Buckling down, the team managed to hold them for the rest of the half, when the Williams team came back in full fury and rolled up an impressive score of 33 to 0.

The following week, in our first home game of the season, the Panthers were thoroughly subdued by Tufts by a score of 20 to 0. The game got off to a good start with the visitors making two lightning scoring thrusts in the first five minutes of play. A long forward pass in the third quarter gave the Jumbos their third and last score. Despite the early scoring, the Middlebury team made a quick recovery and managed to keep the ball in the opponent's territory for most of the remainder of the game.

One week later, the long silent Old Chapel bells pealed forth once again as Middlebury emerged triumphant against Union, turning in a score of 6 to 0. It was Johnny Urban who skirted right end for the four-yard gain which gave the Panther football squad their first triumph since 1939. In the last quarter Middlebury was really put to the test when a tired line strove to ward off a fierce attack by the Dutchmen. Three times the ball found itself deep in Midd territory, but each time the veterans of the line, Wishinski, Prukop, Bishop, and Adsit, held firm and took the ball on downs. Twice more we scored, only to have the ball returned to the original line of scrimmage.

The next game, with Colby, dashed the hopes of Middlebury supporters who were hoping to see a new and inspired team on the field. The game started off well with the Panthers moving the ball down to the Mules' two-inch line in seven plays from their own forty-three-yard line. Here they lost the ball on downs and Colby back kicked the ball out of danger. Our only score in the game came early in the second half when Dixie Davis caught a pass on the Colby forty-five and, behind beautiful blocking, galloped the distance through the whole Colby team. The blocking was excellent, the line played well both offensively and defensively, but despite Hollister's kicking, Urban's fight and drive, and Davis' open-field running, five intercepted passes collected by the Mules gave them a 18 to 6 victory.

The much worried-about Norwich game brought us our worst home defeat of the season as the Vermont Horsemen galloped over the Panther eleven by a score of 34 to 0. The game was noted for its excellent blocking and liberal use of substitutes, both, on the part of the visitors. Through deceptive plays and sheer power the Norwich team was able to keep Middlebury on the defensive during most of the game. Middlebury action was sparked by the brilliant action of Dixie Davis, who collected a Norwich kick on his own six and ran to the Horsemen's eighteen before being dropped.

Despite heavy odds, the Panthers managed to hold a powerful Connecticut team to a 6 to 0 victory. The game was almost without highlights, being played on a slippery and rain-drenched field. Although our offense never got started, the defense played its best game of the season.

Traveling again to Connecticut the following week, the Panther team was thoroughly trounced in the worst beating of the season, home or away. A powerful Coast Guard Academy team, captained by John Thompson, ran up an overwhelming score of 57 to 0. Thompson scored 39 of the points to become high-point scorer of the East.

The traditional game with Vermont was a sad blow to many Middlebury students and supporters. Firmly convinced that we were going to win another game, the team went down in defeat in a very close game by a score of 7 to 6. The two teams were evenly matched and if anything, the Panthers seemed to have the edge. Middlebury scored early in the first half, but failed to garner the extra point. Soon after Vermont got a touch-down and also picked up the extra point and it was this one point lead held by the Catamounts during the whole second half which gave them the game.

This year shows a step in the direction of a new and better football team to come, and the spirit and determination showed by the Middlebury players could hardly have been surpassed by an undefeated season. Adsit and Bishop were elected co-captains for 1942.

Domina stopped in Norwich game

Sam Guarnaccia's freshman eleven started the season right by beating the Union yearlings and the Clark School, but then dropped the last three games.

In the second half of the Union game the combined efforts of Robertson, Zaumseil and Pillsbury, with good support from the team, gained a 26-2 victory for Midd.

Frosh on the Field

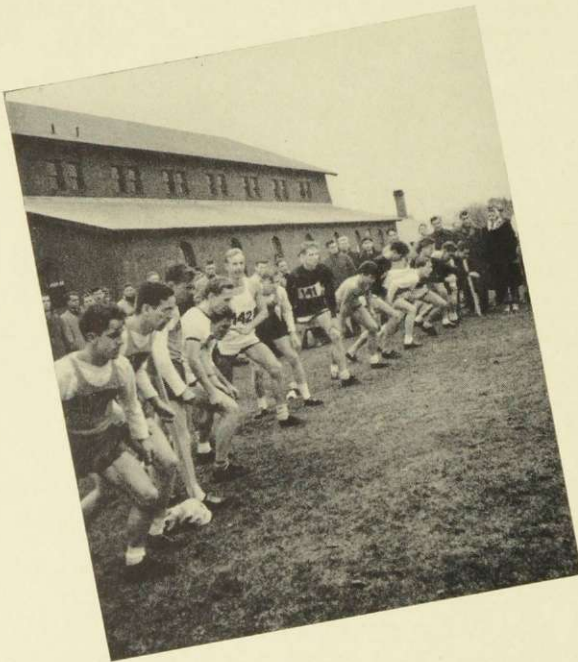

In the following game with Clark, Margolis also scored and Midd emerged with a 20-12 victory. The game with Kimball Union Academy resulted in a disappointing defeat of 7-6, the first since Sam Guarnaccia took over last year. Robertson, Zaumseil and Margolis again held the spotlight, and Walt Swift managed to twist over the line for the single tally.

Vermont held the yearlings scoreless for the first time, running up a lead of 16-0. Finishing the season with the U. V. M. game, the freshmen found themselves on the dark side of a 26-14 score, although having outplayed the Kittens.

The team was further strengthened by such reliable men as Colyer, Cooke, Izant and Stevens, as well as other equally steady regulars. At the end of the season Bill Margolis was elected captain, and Albie Robinson, Dick Robinson and Johnnie Adams, scrub managers.

Varsity harriers at the starting line

A Long, Long

The varsity cross-country started the season with only one returning letterman, and a tough schedule ahead. With confidence, however, they bettered the poor record of last year's team by winning two of the six meets, defeating Union College and the Middlebury freshmen.

In the first meet, despite the excellent winning time of Paul Davis, the Williams team eked out a close 27-28 victory. Parker, also a Midd sophomore, took third and Captain Dave Smith fifth, while Haines and Kinsey also finished in scoring positions.

The following week the Panthers easily defeated a weak Union team by a 16-30 victory. In the other victory of the season, the varsity easily trounced the Panther yearlings, who had a one-minute handicap, by a 20-35 score.

In the next meet, through a driving rain, Paul Davis tasted defeat for the first time this year as he lost a close home-stretch duel to Benefiel, who led his R.P.I. teammates to a close 26-29 victory.

Meeting a powerful Springfield College unit, the Middlebury team again tasted defeat, 22-33, as Booth of Springfield and Paul Davis both broke the course record. Parker and Haines took fifth and seventh places with Kinsey and Stebbins filling ninth and tenth.

In the highlight of the season, the U. V. M. meet, the Panthers lost to a powerful Catamount squad, as it scored a clean sweep to win by a perfect 15-40 score. Vermont's renowned Webster brothers tied for first. Davis was once again Middlebury's first man, followed closely by Parker and Haines.

A poor season in wins, it was an excellent one in spirits. Co-captains-elect Haines and Davis foresee a better season next year.

Although the freshman harriers, under the tutelage of Howard Schlieder lost all four of their meets this year, their ability and spirit is reflected in the near record times which their opponents were forced to establish.

In the first meet against the varsity, the freshmen, led by Tom Bonner and Setter, were defeated 20-35, in a handicap race. The R. P. I. freshmen won the next meet by a perfect score of 15-40, as Setter, Bonner, and Perry led the Panther runners home.

Next the team went down before a powerful Vermont State Aggie team, led by Canedy, who came within nine-tenths of a second of the course record. Setter, in fourth place, again paced the Middlebury runners. The team, led by Bonner, rang down the curtain on its disastrous season by succumbing to Vermont in Burlington, 17-38.

Seeing Action

Middlebury finished its basketball season with a record of only two victories in twelve games, both of these over St. Michael's. The poor showing of the team was due largely to its lack of reserves plus the general superiority of the opponents. All home games were played on the new high school court.

Midd opened its season on a trip that saw the Beckmen lose two games and a star forward. Tufts was the winner in the first, crushing the Panthers, 44-14, while M. I. T. took the second, 47-31. In this game Earle Bishop was injured and lost to the team for the remainder of the season. The quintet concluded its pre-Christmas schedule by losing to Williams at home, 44-31.

The Panthers dropped their next game to R. P. I., 34-24, at Troy, an eleven point spurt at the end of the second half sewing up the game for the Engineers. Highlighting the losing cause was the sterling playing of Johnny Cadwell and the sinking of five consecutive foul shots by Parke Wright. Union came to town for the following game and beat Middlebury by a 39-28 count.

Vermont, led by Killick who tallied 18 points, took an early lead and with superior passing and defense, held it to defeat Midd, 56-31, in Burlington, in the first game of the state series. Russ Dale was high scorer for the Panthers with 9 points.

A fast-breaking and accurate-shooting Springfield quintet handed Middlebury its worst defeat of the season in the next game, 70-30, their close-checking defense giving the Beckmen little opportunity to shoot. Dale and freshman John McGarry were high men for Midd with 9 points each.

The rest of the games were against state opponents. Norwich beat the Panthers twice within a week by scores of 46-37 and 53-49. In the first game, Middlebury's inability to capitalize upon set shots was costly, while in the second, the team played the entire game without substitutions and tired quickly in the second half after leading at intermission. Captain Bill Ouimette and Freddy Lapham led the Panther scorers in the first game, while Bob Adsit, John McGarry, and Russ Dale were high in the second of the two contests.

Between these games, the Panthers defeated St. Michael's, 49-33, for their first victory after eight losses, winning in a whirlwind second half in which they outscored the Mikes, 30-10. Ouimette, Lapham and McGarry were high scorers.

Lack of reserves told again as Vermont won, 53-38, despite Midd's lead at the half. Middlebury's Freddy Lapham was high scorer with 14 points. Both he and McGarry starred as the Panthers ended their season with a thrilling 47-46 victory over St. Michael's.

Entering the annual Invitation Carnival at Lake Placid, the hockey team began its season by losing its first two games. The first game, against Cornell, saw a weak Middlebury team lose a hard-fought battle against overwhelming odds by a score of 8-2. In the race for second place, Midd fell again, this time under the flashing attack of the men from M. I. T. The team showed much better form and teamwork in this game and the score at the end stood at 4-3. Against Union, the following day, the Blue and White rose to the occasion and defeated the Dutchmen by a 6-2 margin.

In the first game of the regular season Middlebury defeated a weak Union squad by 7-0. The Middmen were stalled in the first period, but came back in the second and third to roll up a substantial score. Johnny Urban and Don Gale starred by scoring two goals each.

The following day Middlebury's veteran sextet had its third victory of the season, defeating U. V. M. by a close margin of 3-2.

Meeting a fast-skating Williams hockey club the Panthers went under 2-0. Dixie Davis was responsible for the close score, making several timely saves.

During the mid-year recess the Midd pucksters split even in a two game series, losing to a powerful Hamilton team by a score of 4-1, and then beating a weak Vermont team 8-2. The Hamilton game was closer than the score might indicate, final scoring being done in the last period.

The following week, playing under the most adverse conditions, the Panthers dropped a close 1-0 decision to a very powerful Northeastern sextet. The squad played excellent hockey and Dixie Davis again starred in the net.

Able to gain only one goal against the six of the opponents, the Blue and White went down fighting to a spirited Colgate team. Exhibiting splendid team play the Colgate squad had little trouble in finding our net with the puck. Davis made forty-one saves, while Jack Young and Will Mayo were successful in breaking up several well-timed plays.

Carnival week-end showed no favoritism to the men of Midd, as they lost two games in a row on the home rink. In one of the poorest played games of the season Norwich took them 6-2. The team lacked the punch present in most of the games and Davis received little support from a tired defense. The other game, a farce against the alumni, was close all the way with the ex-greats finally triumphing with a 5-4 score.

On extremely poor ice which was partly responsible for several injuries, Midd ended the season with a 4-0 victory over St. Michael's.

Scoring the first Middlebury sports win of the 1942 season, the ski team won the annual Sno-Bird Carnival Meet at Lake Placid. Barely beating their foremost rivals, New Hampshire, the Panther skiers also defeated St. Lawrence, Williams, Colgate, Cornell, Syracuse, and Penn State.

The ski team was made up of only four men, Captain Townsend, Bob Sheehan, Bob Stuart, and Dick McCrudden. Warm weather and lack of snow caused cancellation of the downhill and slalom. The Blue and White skiers were able, despite this fact, to capture three high scoring positions in both the jumping and the cross country. New Hampshire won both of these events, but the preponderance of Middlebury's scoring places made up the disadvantage.

The luck of the Panther ski team was shattered in the following meet as Dartmouth's Big Green swept through the slalom and downhill to take the annual Williams Winter Carnival, held this year at Woodstock, Vt. Williams garnered enough points in Sunday's jumping to almost nose Midd out for second, followed by Norwich and Harvard. Stand-outs for the week-end's activities on Middlebury's part were John Gale, winner of the slalom, and freshman Phil Dunham who won the jumping competition.

The Dartmouth Carnival, the following week, proved to be Middlebury's downfall, taking fifth place in a field of eight. New Hampshire walked away with the prize, taking first place team honors in downhill, slalom, jumping, cross country, and both combines. Captain Ike Townsend was high scorer for Midd, gaining a fourth in combined downhill and slalom.

The week-end of February 20 found the Panthers on their home course as the Intercollegiate Ski Union championships were run off in conjunction with the Middlebury College Carnival. Dartmouth, New Hampshire, and Middlebury finished first, second, and third respectively, with Harvard, Williams, Norwich, St. Lawrence, Amherst, Vermont, and M. I. T. trailing in that order. Ike Townsend took top honors for Middlebury by a fine showing in the downhill, langlauf, and combined. New Hampshire's Ralph Townsend took individual honors for the meet.

Middlebury's season ended at the Norwich Carnival with a second place behind New Hampshire. Paced by Captain Townsend again with a win in cross-country and second in the combined, the team made a good showing as McKee, Dunham, Sheehan, Hawkes, and Hendrix turned in excellent records.

The same week-end, John Gale, facing a field of seventy-nine expert skiers, brought new honors to himself and Midd, by winning the Vermont State Open Slalom Championship at Pico Peak.

In the Field

Captain Johnny Hicks

The Middlebury track team enjoyed a moderately successful season in 1941, highlighted by a number of promising freshman finds and many brilliant performances. The team was aided in its early practice by unusually warm April weather which allowed early use of Porter Field.

The greater part of the Panther's power lay in the dashes and the distance races. Capt. Johnny Hicks was undefeated in six starts in the sprints. These were divided equally between the 100- and 220-yard dashes. In the field events Marty Wittlin won the shot put four times, twice in record-breaking performances.

Union came to town for the first meet and was defeated 83-43. Wittlin tossed the shot 42 feet, 5½ inches for a new Midd record. Hicks won his specialties, while Jack Bates doubled in the low hurdles and broad jump. Morehouse and Butler showed mid-season form in winning the 880 and 440, respectively. Other

Wood and Rasmussen over the hurdles

With the Junior Olympics

Midd victories were scored by Rasmussen in the high hurdles, Parker in the two-mile, and Stebbins in the mile. Trask tied for first in the pole vault. On the darker side John Zydik reinjured a knee in the javelin throw and was lost to the team for the rest of the season.

The Panthers smashed R. P. I. at Porter Field a week later, 70-56. The superiority of the New Yorkers in the field was more than offset by Midd's excellence in the running events. Hicks, Bates and Butler scored doubles to lead the attack.

In the next meet Middlebury fell before Williams at Williamstown, 87½-47½. The Purple was led by Vietor, who scored a triple in the sprints and low hurdles. Captain Hicks missed the meet owing to the recurrence of a leg injury. Midd's consolation came in a record-shattering 43-foot, 8-inch shot put by Marty Wittlin. Lundrigan in the javelin, Rasmussen in the high hurdles, and freshman Tom Rooney in the high jump were other Midd winners.

Vermont, superior in the field, beat the Panthers in their last regular meet, 74½-60½. Hicks closed his college career with a double in the sprints and Wittlin took the shot put again. Butler, Morehouse, Parker, and Bates accounted for the other Midd victories, while Hollister and Rasmussen got other valuable places.

In the Eastern Intercollegiates, the following Saturday, the Panthers placed seventh. Butler in the quarter mile, Lundrigan in the javelin, and Wittlin in the shot put were the Midd scorers.

Jack Bates was elected captain of the 1942 track team at the close of the season.

Spring Finds

The 1941 Midd baseball team started the season with a disastrous tour of the Connecticut Valley. On successive days Midd had bowed 6-4, 12-2, and 14-4 to Trinity, Springfield, and Wesleyan.

To brighten the gloom that hung over Middlebury, there had been only a few bright spots. Harry VanGaasbeck, co-captain, had pitched a beautiful six-hit game against Trinity and with good fielding support might have won. Freshman George Wiemann turned in an excellent relief job in the Springfield game, and Co-Capt. Sam Bertuzzi made some good fielding plays against Wesleyan.

Midd opened its home season on Saturday, April 26, against a really good Williams team. With the odds heavily against them, the Panthers played an inspired game. VanGaasbeck's splendid hurling was backed by good fielding so that Midd led 2-1 at the start of the sixth. By the end of that inning, thanks to Sheehan, Turner, and two bases on walks,

Campus Kings o' Swat at Bat for Midd

Midd had added three runs, clinched the game, and defeated Williams 5-4.

Another week brought the Panthers three more losses at the hands of R. P. I., St. Lawrence, and Clarkson. The scores of the first two games were 10-0 and 6-0. Hal Skinner held St. Lawrence scoreless after the second inning, but the damage had been done. The third game was a different story. Midd outhit and outplayed Clarkson, but Tech turned on its batting power in the last half of the ninth to win 4-3.

Midd met St. Michael's at Winooski for the first game of the state series. Midd scored early, then the game was tied until the eighth inning when St. Michael's scored two runs to win the ball game 9-7. That Saturday, Vermont, behind the two-hit pitching of Ackley, shut the Panthers out 6-0.

Then Midd returned to play a series of home games. On Monday it played host to the St. Lawrence ball team, finishing the game at the small end of a 4-0 score.

Thursday, Midd entertained the U. V. M. ball club in turn. Using exactly the same team that had shut out Midd in Burlington, Vermont proceeded to win the game. This time, however, mostly due to a beautiful fourth-inning homer by Ed Yeomans, the score was 6-3.

Friday, a Junior week-end crowd saw Springfield overcome Midd's early lead. However, the game didn't belong to Springfield until they sent in a relief pitcher. The final score was 9-6.

The season ended the following Wednesday in an anticlimax. The Blue and White lost to St. Michael's 9-0. This game showed one of the Panthers' weaknesses, a failure to hit. Another and more serious weakness, which cost Midd several games, was bad fielding.

Twelve Laps Around the Board Track

The indoor relay team, with the graduation of Jack Hicks and Fred Butler, is now made up entirely of the class of 1944. The 1942 season, like so many other activities, was sharply curtailed by the war. Two of the scheduled three meets were cancelled for one reason or another. The Middlebury team was supposed to participate in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Meet and the Prout Memorial Races, both of which were cancelled.

However, the relay team did enter the meet sponsored by the Boston Athletic Association in Boston Garden and held before a crowd of 14,000. In this competition, George Hartz was lead-off man, Hal Parker was in second position, "Holly" Hollister ran the third lap, and Dave Stebbins was the anchor man. Lynn Sackett also accompanied the team on this trip as alternate entrant.

Amherst, the University of Maine, the University of Connecticut and Middlebury participated. Middlebury defeated the two universities, but lost to Amherst, thus giving a good account of their actions in their sole start of this season.

Despite the lack of contests, Coach Brown could well be proud of his team.

In the five years that fencing has existed as a minor sport at Middlebury it has become increasingly important, until now the fencing team enters competition against the best opposition that there is to be found in the East.

John Corbin fills the triple rôle of coach, captain, and manager of the fencers. Regulars on the team include Corbin, George Nitchie, Bill Small, and freshman George Hartung in the foils, Hank Cady, Lew Haines, Corbin, and Nitchie in the sabre, and Small, Corbin, Nitchie, and Haines in épée.

Competing against professionally coached college teams, Middlebury has won one of seven matches to date. The foilsmen started the campaign by losing a close match to St. Lawrence, following which they were beaten by Dartmouth and the championship Seton Hall aggregation in a three-way match at Hanover.

Over the Christmas holidays the fencing team defeated Fordham, while losing a very close match to Swarthmore and being thoroughly beaten by the superior Long Island University outfit. In the only match since then, Amherst emerged victorious over the Middlebury fencers.

A Quartet of Successful Golfers

The golf team, under the leadership of Donald Chapman, can once again boast a fine record. Completing a season of eight matches, the team won five and lost three. Playing beside Captain Chapman were Dixie Davis and Duke Diefendorf, both veterans, and Sandy Young, a promising freshman.

During the season the Panthers defeated Colby, Norwich, the Rutland Country Club and Union College. Our only losses were suffered at the hands of Colgate, Norwich in a second match, and the Middlebury Country Club.

Running up an individual score of four wins and one loss, Chapman exhibited fine golf throughout the season and proved himself to be a true leader. Close at his heels for individual honors were Davis and Young, both of whom turned in excellent records. Special recognition must be given to Duke Diefendorf, for he always came through in the pinches and played best when under pressure.

Losing half the team by graduation, Captain-Elect Davis will not find it an easy job to duplicate the fine achievements the 1941 golf team has set as examples.

The fourth contest at Colgate was called because of rain. In the next encounter a St. Lawrence team defeated the Midd-men 5-4, taking all the doubles after the Panthers had established a 4-2 lead in the singles matches. Continuing our home winning streak, Colby was defeated in a long close match by a 5-4 margin and Vermont was taken 6-3. Bad weather was responsible for calling the Norwich meet, but Coach Cornwall's men took advantage of their rest to trounce St. Michael's 6-0 on the home courts.

The last tennis match to be played was a rematch against Vermont at Burlington for state championship. With Crawford, Haines, MacDonald, Baird, and the Proctor-Crawford, Baird-Melvin combinations defeating their opponents, the match was taken 7-2. The last scheduled match against St. Michael's was rained out, ending a good season of five victories, three losses and three called.

Eight Fraternities Seek Intramural Honors

With the curtailment of varsity sports due to the war, intramural competition is increasing in importance, and each of the intramural managers is awarded a varsity letter for his work. To the fraternity getting the most points in intramurals during the year is given the Trophy of Trophies.

The year started with Chi Psi defeating the D. U.'s in touch football and the Dekes beating the D. U.'s in team golf, while Lew Haines of D. U. won the individual tennis title.

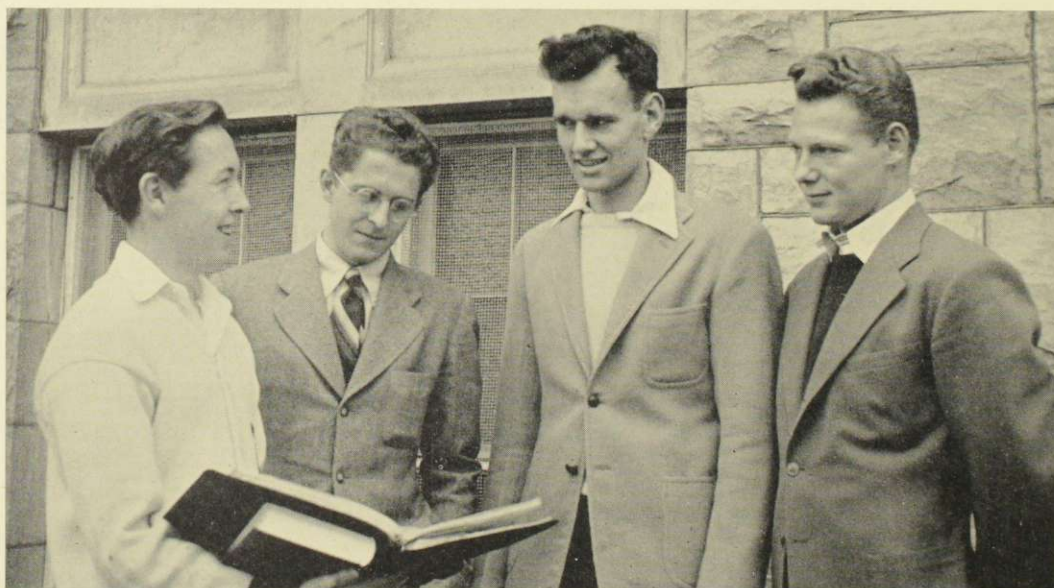

After a round-robin tournament, D. U. won the volleyball crown, while the Dekes, led by high scoring Skip Harris, won the basketball, and then defeated the K. D. R.'s in team handball. Tom Cruess of A. S. P. won the individual handball. Team hockey ended in a tie between D. K. E. and K. D. R. when a disputed final could not be replayed. Jack Bates won the individual badminton and led Chi Psi to the team title over S. A.

Their Goal: Points and a W.A.A. Jacket

In the spring of each year, three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman are elected to direct the program of the Women's Athletic Association for the next year. This executive board for 1941-1942 consists of Lois R. Grandy, president; Isabel B. Grier, vice-president; Joan L. Calley, treasurer; and Doris A. Orth, secretary. Charlotte Johnson is custodian and Harriet Tillinghast manages the Marian L. Young Cabin. The Council also includes the heads of sports during their particular season.

Prexy honored guest at the W. A. A. sponsored Play Day

Meeting every two weeks, the main task is to make out the program for team sports during the year and tournaments for individual sports. The Council also sponsors a Play Day with U. V. M., arranges the membership drive in the fall, makes nominations for heads of sports, and purchases new equipment. The nominations for the new Council are also made by this board.

The W. A. A. presents jackets to those women who have participated in enough sports to have obtained 1,000 points. These awards, along with the selection of All-Midd teams, consisting of the best players from each class, are made by the Council.

W. A. A.

ARCHERY

The athletic field back of Forest was the scene of last year's W. A. A. archery. There, on sunny spring afternoons, a group of modern Dianas, under the leadership of Carol Lewthwaite, set up their targets, shot their arrows into the air and straight towards the bull's-eye. It wasn't all that simple, however, for the girls worked on methods to improve their scores. To test the results of this practice, they finished with a Columbia Round Tournament and some clout-shooting.

BASEBALL

Spring has finally found Middlebury! Baseball takes its place as one of the most popular of spring sports and finds many enthusiasts renouncing scholastic averages for batting averages. Regardless of weather conditions which vary from sunshine to sleet, the interclass league games take place as scheduled. Last spring the sophomores, led by Charlotte Johnson, boasted an undefeated season, although they met with the keenest of competition. Outstanding among the participants were Barbara Johnson, Carol Lewthwaite, Beth Warner, Doris Orth, and Jean Jordan.

GOLF

The W. A. A. Golf Tournament, managed this year by Marion J. Thompson, will probably be the last one for the duration of the present war because, with the school year shortened as it now is, there will not be time to play off a golf tournament. Barbara Johnson and Marion Thompson placed first among the twenty-four entries in the year's contest. Matches were played during October and November on the Middlebury golf course according to national U. S. G. A. rules.

Activities

TENNIS

The sound of a tennis ball as it meets a racket is a familiar one on campus. When the rugged Vermont weather first shows signs of abating, plans are laid for the spring and fall tournaments. Last year these matches were capably managed by Georgia Childs. In the spring singles tournament Betty Thompson defeated Carol Hubbard to become the winner. A mixed-doubles tournament was held in the fall and again, with Lew Haines, her partner, Betty copped the honors.

RIDING

For those who are able to, and enjoy it, riding is another of the many ways in which Middlebury women can "work it off," and at the same time see much of the surrounding countryside. Although it is sponsored by the W. A. A., the student may count her points towards either gym credits (if she is a freshman or sophomore) or W. A. A. June Archibald headed the sport this year, with Turner's Barn, located on the campus, as headquarters.

SOCCER

Anne Clark captained a winning group of soccer players this year to a victory over the freshman team. Miss McCullough coached the girls in their daily practices. A second official game was scheduled with the freshmen on Play Day, but because of a heavy rain, the two teams were forced to content themselves with talking soccer over a dinner in Forest Recreation room. Besides Captain Clark, the team was ably backed by Louise Wilkin, Harriet Tillinghast and Jean Lacey.

W. A. A.

HOCKEY

Autumn is not true autumn until the hockey enthusiasts start clicking sticks on the women's athletic field behind Forest Hall. This year under the capable leadership of Harriet Tillinghast, Isabel Grier, Kathryn Guernsey, and Barbara Boyden, the intramurals were played. The freshman team came out on top. Those girls who were chosen for All-Midd hockey are Joan Calley, Isabel Grier, Martha Newton, Virginia Wynn, Lorraine Guernsey, Janet Harris, Lois Hoffman, Wilma Bunce, Agnes Fink, Margery Johnston, and Ann Robinson.

VOLLEYBALL

Just about the time that November makes its annual appearance on the calendar, volleyball begins to usurp first place in the W. A. A. sports parade. A very popular pastime, it has become one of the major team sports, ranking right along with hockey and basketball.

This year, under the leadership of Dorothy Forsythe, the volleyball season came to a very successful close with the junior team, led by Captain Betty Brigham, finishing on top in the tournament between the four classes.

SKIING

Since the first snowy Saturday after Christmas, Miss Sweeney's protégés have slid, "swooshed," and often skied down Chapel Hill. Some forty people arrive each Saturday at one-thirty to learn the art which no Midd woman should be without. This class started as a beginners' group, but so many of the "beginners" came, already practiced skiers, that it developed into a very cosmopolitan crowd; and many hours have been recorded towards the fifteen needed for W. A. A. credit.

Activities

BASKETBALL

Each winter basketball enthusiasts on the women's side of the campus participate in a series of interclass games arranged by the W. A. A. This year's program was in charge of Lenore E. Wolff. In the competition, the upperclassmen were outplayed by a freshman team which defeated the sophomores for the championship. The All-Midd team, elected at the end of the season, consisted of Abbie-Dora Ansel '44, Donna Dailey '42, Agnes Fink '45, Jane Ketchum '45, Betty Mercer '44, and Harriet Tillinghast '42.

BADMINTON

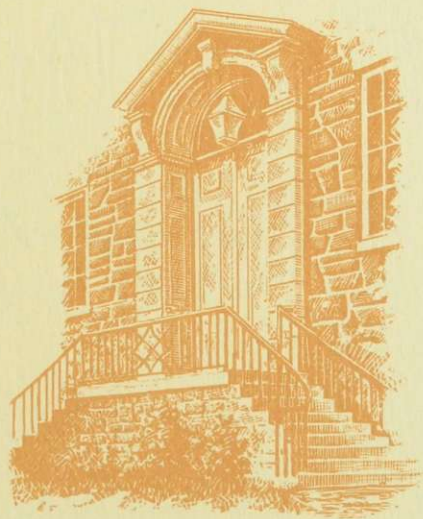

Each successive season of W. A. A. badminton finds more converts responding to the notices of first practice. From that time on until the tournament in the spring, they can be seen in earnest pursuit of the feathered-cork "bird," for the required twelve hours of practice, under the watchful eye of Barbara Johnson. The more successful players compete in a mixed doubles tournament, while those who possess more enthusiasm than skill are entered in the Consolation Tournament, a new feature of the 1942 season.

MODERN DANCE

Middlebury's modern dance group is one of the most enthusiastic organizations of W. A. A. girls to be found on campus. The girls take great delight and pride in putting on their own recital in the spring at the Playhouse. The costumes, as well as the dances themselves, are original creations of the members. With such interest behind their efforts, these amateur Martha Grahams cannot possibly remain unnoticed or unappreciated by Middlebury students as a whole.

SOCIAL LIFE DEVELOPING FROM ITS CO-EDU-CATIONAL CHARACTER. PROOF OF THIS IS

CAMPUS.

Social Year

And Now the Social Year

Homecoming this year saw alumni returning on October 24 for the gym rally and P-rade. The following Saturday featured the Norwich game, while a faculty tea, fraternity and gym dances climaxed the week-end.

Winter Carnival was held February 20-22. After Coronation and fraternity dances came ski events, casino and the play, "Calling All Queens." Klondike Rush ended Carnival in a whirl of excitement.

Junior Week last spring started with the Prom on May 17. In rapid succession followed the rope-pull and steeplechase, fraternity breakfasts and open house dances, and on Sunday the step-singing.

Senior Week, June 14-16, opened with the Thursday night Ball, was followed by Class Day, Barbecue and alumni reunions. Sunday was Baccalaureate, and on Monday, Commencement ended another Middlebury year.

LIFE

An Equitable Policy takes the IF out of LIFE. It safeguards your fondest ambitions and helps you to attain them. It eliminates many of the uncertainties, and is a friend at every turn.

In your account with success, it will be responsible for many credit entries.

Let me tell you more about this.

The college man clothed by the modern Rogers Peet cuts many a caper, but few classes!

Why?

Because his Rogers Peet
Clothes make it a pleasure to be seen about the campus.

All Rogers Peet stores
(New York and Boston) are ready to help assure you of the campus favor which comes when you are correctly dressed.

Get to know the modern
Rogers Peet!
